

Chest X-ray Examination

Preparation is required. Please be sure to read carefully.

*Eligible students: first year undergraduate students, first year Master's students, first year PhD students, students of the School of Medicine and Graduate School of Medicine, and those who wish to have it

Please make sure to have an x-ray if you need a medical certificate for your job application, scholarship application, etc. for this academic year.

As a measure to prevent the spread of infection, please wear a T-shirt to your chest x-ray.

There will be no examination gowns available for your use.

Also, you may not be completely undressed for the x-ray.

Please follow the instructions below when preparing the T-shirt for your x-ray.

- X-rays cannot be performed if there are decorations on your T-shirt. In this case, you cannot have the X-ray and comprehensive evaluation will not be given on your medical certificate.
- You may not wear undergarments such as a bra, bra top, sports bra, wireless bra, or camisole with plastic strap slides and/or hooks during the x-ray.
- You may not wear bulky clothing such as sweatshirts, as this may affect the exposure and the image.
- Decorations are not acceptable on the front or the back of your clothing.
- You may not wear clothing with designs made from materials such as fluorescent paint and glitter, as they often contain metal.
- You may wear undergarments that are light and free of decorations, such as Heattech.
- You may wear screen-printed T-shirts as long as they do not have embossed designs.
